Come as your schedule allows, leave when your schedule requires. No time to help? Then come for lunch or dinner and enjoy the holiday spirit. Bring your family and all the like minded friends you can muster. Begin an annual tradition from this year forward!

FREE PARKING. ALL MEALS AND SNACKS INCLUDED. LIVE ENTERTAINMENT.

Enjoy a lunch and dinner w/residents and the Little Sisters of the Poor who care for them- all foods, turkey based: burgers, hot dogs, casseroles, stuffing; all desserts, holiday-themed.

RSVP by November 15 to leadhealthcare@comcast.net, if you will share in the fun and activities of our Christmas celebration of friendship, and volunteering for the aged poor.

After 159 friends celebrated last year, and did so much good, we hope that this year's event is an even bigger success that these "holiday parties" become an annual tradition for you, your friends, and your family.

In your e-mail to the above address, identify contact info fully: Names(s), and e-mail addresses for all participants; volunteer duties you would prefer; likely arrival time. You will receive all scheduling details ASAP after your response by e-mail. SAVE THE DATE ON YOUR CALENDAR!

Perhaps, you see Christmas as the perfect holiday occasion to count your blessings and to share our bountiful harvest with the aged poor. Join in the fun of old friends gathering, enjoying each other's company, and helping those who are often forgotten at the holidays.

Perhaps, like the actor Matthew McConaughey, you see your personal success not in terms of the wealth and power you accumulate in your lifetime, but in the good you can do for the often forgotten folks in our midst, and like him, you can say, "I want to do some good with the goods I have been given."

The essence of life? To serve others and to do good". - Aristotle
"Service is the rent we pay for our room here on earth." – Mohammed Ali.

The earliest of holiday wishes to you! "Caring about others in need can make every day into a beautiful holiday."

"Generosity always has admirers, but rarely imitators."

"If you think you are too small to make a difference, you haven't been in bed with a mosquito."

Please join us for a day of fun and friendship, a day of caring and sharing.

PLEASE FORWARD THIS EMAILED INVITATION TO EVERY FRIEND AND FAMILY MEMBER WHO MAY WANT TO HELP AT OUR HOLIDAY CELEBRATION
